Expand Your SAP R/3 System With Document Distribution, Collaboration And Distributed Printing

eQuorum's SAP Connector expands the capability of your SAP R/3 business system by integrating it with eQuorum's ImageSite, web-based software to provide online document viewing, distribution, collaboration, and distributed printing. The SAP Connector lets you utilize the strengths of both of these powerful applications.

What The SAP Connector Does

You search for documents stored in the SAP repository using the familiar SAP interface. Once the documents are retrieved, you can seamlessly view, distribute or print using ImageSite's many features.

Or, view and post documents such as purchase orders to an ImageSite server on your extranet where these documents can be accessed by vendors or customers.

ImageSite's Viewing Features

View thumbnails of retrieved documents to select those you wish to work with. Pan and zoom to see details. ImageSite lets you do all of this with amazing performance speed no matter how large or complex the file size.

ImageSite's Distribution Features

Instead of sending e-mails with attachments, the SAP Connector gives you access to ImageSite's more effective approach to document distribution. E-mails can be sent to authorized users with URL links that take them directly to the desired document which remains safely inside the repository.

Or, use ImageSite's encapsulation feature which lets you download or e-mail documents with a self-contained viewer to allow offline document viewing and markup.

ImageSite's Collaboration Features

These features are real time-savers! Hold real-time meetings online to view and mark up drawings. Multiple users can simultaneously review or collaborate on the same document and see everyone's markups or notes. Use electronic "sticky notes" to add text notes to a drawing or a specific part of a document.

ImageSite's Printing Features

Here's the workhorse of the ImageSite system! Use ImageSite's server-side printing to plot to any of your LAN printers, no matter where they're located. Create and archive plot sets with printing parameters assigned. Utilize other plotting features including watermarks and banner sheets.

Get maximum control over your plotting output. Take full advantage of your plotter's advanced features such as collated sets, stackers, folders, and media selection.

ImageSite lets users produce plots from a variety of industry standard formats. Nearly every printer on the market, including legacy devices, is supported by ImageSite. And with an optional Enterprise Plotting License, you can enable printing over a Wide Area Network.
